1. Creation of Christianity Top ↑

The original draft of the New Testament was written at the Alexandrian School in Egypt by Philo of Alexandria (1). The Alexandrian School was a proto-Frankfurt School (2) that specialized in taking contemporaneous religions and then adding to them a pacifist slave-making foundation with a jewish messiah as the leader. These religions were attempts at global domination through ideological subversion. The first Alexandrian School slave-morality psyop religion was the cult of Serapis Christus [link], and then an Alexandrian Abrahamic-Heraclean syncretic slave-morality psyop religion that was targeted to the Spartans around 300 BCE served as a test run for xtianity in Europe [link] [link]. So, before christianity, they had over 300 years to perfect their population control/brainwashing system that they then tried to infuse into established religions.

After Philo (who was "Theophilus" in the bible), the psyop was passed to his nephew Tiberius Julius Alexander, aka Gaius Julius Epiphanes [link] aka "Josephus" (Joseph of Ara-Matthaus in the bible. Also note that Tiberius Julius Alexander's son was named "Philopappos" [link] which means that "Philo" was a family name). Tiberius Julius Alexander was the son of Philo's half-brother Alexander who was the grandson and heir of Herod the Great, and he was the richest man in the empire. He was also known as (king/Tetrarch) Ptolemy (Alexander) bar Menneus but he had over a dozen aliases [link] [link] [link] [link] [link] [link] [link] [link], and Cleopatra (Thea Philopator) of Mauretania or Cleopatra IX aka Helene aka Drusilla of Mauretania aka Glaphyra, Princess of Cappadocia [link] [link] (and one of her mothers recorded maiden names was Alexandria bat Matthias [link] which is where her son's pseudonym "Joseph bar Matthias" comes from) who was the (at least) half-jewish granddaughter of Julius Caesar and Cleopatra. Tiberius Julius Alexander was the Roman Prefect (leader) of the Praetorian Guard and the second most powerful man in the empire next to the emperor, and the Prefect (governor) of Roman Egypt. ("Josephus") was also the ex-brother-in-law of "Berenice" (queen of the Roman Empire through her relationship with emperor Titus) and also her cousin (their grandfathers Herod Agrippa I and Alexandros, III were brothers) [link].

A stylometric and textual analysis can trace the earliest [link] [link] Koine Greek written [link] new testament epistles back to Philo in Alexandria and to his nephew "Josephus" but the important thing that I want to focus on in this essay is not Christianity's origin but the population control system and psychological weapon that exists at its core and how this system is responsible for the destruction of Rome, the Dark Ages, the needless sacrifice of hundreds of millions of Europeans, dysgenic European breeding over two centuries, and how it is the reason why the White European race lacks ingroup preference, tribal spirit, will to power, and why many have evolved a group strategy where they think they can gain moral and social supremacy from hating themselves and/or policing the behavior of their family and tribal members.

2. The Christian System Top ↑

Christianity is a sophisticated psyop that was packaged as a religion. It is a system that is targeted at the oppressed and exploited classes by promising them a utopia (classless society), but in reality it just weaponizes their resentment for a violent overthrow of the existing social order, exactly like Marxism. After overtaking a society, the christian domestication/divide and conquer system has two inbuilt systems that take-over: a self-policing population control system and a brainwashing mind-control system, both of which are designed to subdue a population and empower the lowest classes to become self-policing/regulating agents who then exist to prevent any rebellion against the system.

2.1 Population Control System

Christianity has an in-built bottom-up self-policing population control system. It operates by:

- Empowering the lowest classes and women through universalism and Friedrich Nietzsche's concept of the 'transvaluation of Aryan values' (3) [link] (pity, guilt, shame, weakness, self-denial, and self-hatred become virtues, while power, strength, nobility, pride, and honor are seen as bad. Ie. what is considered good and noble by the aristocratic and warrior castes is considered evil and base by the lower ("chandala" [link]) caste so this way the chandala caste becomes empowered to hold the aristocratic and warrior castes in judgment if they violate any of their socially constructed rules of behavior). Through the universalist christian system the lowest caste christians automatically become self-deified [link] [link] and can label someone a "heretic" ("racist", "sexist", homophobe" in secularized form) [link] if they violate a set commandment (race/gender/IQ are social constructs in secular form) or ascribe to a political affiliation that is against the status quo, then they gain social and moral supremacy over them. They also gain justification to destroy them. This is why christianity and its secularized variants spread so pestilentially among the lower classes because it offered them the opportunity to hold the higher castes in judgement. This is also what makes the system self-policing.
- christianity is also a personal behavior/thought policing control system. The concept of an omnipresent god that can read your thoughts, mortification of the flesh/self-disciplining, confession and penance to police your own behavior. Also, shame, guilt, humility, etc.

2.2 Mind-Control System

The Christian mind-control system is designed to subconsciously connect you to jews, fill you with fear (trauma-based mind-control programming), self-hate, strip you of all self-worth, fill you with guilt and shame complexes, rob you of your connection to ancestry and genetic memory, make you stupid (intellectual curiosity and critical thinking are not only threats to faith/fideism but are sins, and this is the reason why every christian white trash town is filled with people whose culture is built around a contempt for learning), and instill in you a slave-like mentality of obedience. It does this through:

- Fear and punishment/trauma based mind-control programming: genital mutilation at birth; the concept of "hell" that they plagiarized from Plato's Republic (the 'Myth of Er' [link]); the lifelong fear of death (Pagans equated death with glory). Also, reward. The concept of "heaven" for asceticism/suffering/obedience.
- Moral Absolutism (binary good vs evil worldview)

- Group polarization [link].
- Depersonalization/alienation: christianity doesn't just separate you from your tribe and family, but also your genetic memory.
- Guilt and shame: Instilling guilt and shame complexes from birth and then offering a program of "salvation". Christians are brainwashed into believing that they are sinners (there are dozens of types) and that they were born with Original Sin (sin you inherit from simply being born).
- Learned helplessness: no matter how enslaved and exploited you are you shouldn't resist because a savior will eventually come rescue you if you pray hard enough, and if a savior doesn't come, you will be rewarded when you die.
- Penance: Evangelism and missionary work as part of a program of salvation that will release your guilt. Evangelism also makes the psyop self-perpetuating.
- Prayer: The purpose of prayer is to reinforce the brainwashing (guilt, shame, fear) by continually repeating directed affirmations.
- Confession: To further reinforce the guilt and shame complexes by continually confessing guilt. Confessing guilt also contributes to ego death.

3. Secularization of Christianity Top ↑

Modern liberalism is a secularized Christian political-theological religion (4). Specifically, secularized Protestantism (the Calvinist branch that later evolved into Puritanism) combined with Marxism (the first secularized form of Christianity). The Reformation and the rise of Protestantism really opened up the gates of hell to Europe. Before this, when Europeans were illiterate and were not allowed to read or interpret the bible (5) anyways, the psyop religion was simply a regressive force. The Reformation coincided with the invention of the Gutenberg printing press which increased literacy, and this is when the psyop became personal. This is also when a myriad of Protestant sects sprung forth: the Anabaptists, the Mennonites, the Amish, the Digger Movement, the Ranters, etc., all of whom adhered to a system of communism and preached about universalism and a utopia on earth. Marxism was one of these sects. The only difference is that Marxism was the first secularized Christian sect where the belief in a supernatural god was replaced with a belief in an omnipresent government.

See also: On The (Protestant) Ancestry of Leftism and What Is ‘Liberalism’?

3.1 Marxism and Secularized Christianity

- "Marxism" is a secularized Christian sect that replaces god with the government. The central organizing principle of classical Marxist economics, “from each according to his ability, to each according to his need”, was lifted verbatim from the pages of the New Testament. Marx's historical materialism is the eschatological framework of Christian orthodoxy in secularized form. Christian salvation is Marxian emancipation. Also, Marxism is built on the philosophy of liberation and universalism (6) and preys off of those who find it difficult to deal with life on this earth by promising them a future utopia. Marxism, like christianity, is also dogmatic and sectarian, both justify violence as a catalyst for social change, both prohibit private property, "take from the rich to give to the poor", and "may the last be first", etc. If you strip away the Marxian narrative you will see that at its core it is the exact divide and conquer population control system that is designed to weaponize the resentment of the lower classes for the overthrow of society like christinaity. This is not a coincidence. Influenced by Bruno Bauer, and coming out of the enlightenment, Karl Marx foresaw a day when Europeans would no longer believe in the jew worshiping cult so he approached a Christian communist group called the 'League of the Just' and got them to finance him while he came up with an economic system based on Christianity (7).

3.2 Secular Christian Tenets and Ethics

- White guilt/privilege/fragility/et.al. = Christian Original Sin.
- Virtue signaling = Christian penance [link], [link].
- Publically exhibiting self-hate/self-flagellating = christian piety signaling. In christianity, genuflection, self-abasement, and self-abnegation are necessary prerequisites for spiritual purity and cleansing. This is expressed as "mortification of the flesh" [link]. For 2000 years, Europeans have been rewarded for piety signaling, i.e.. displaying self-hate, confession, self-flagellation, etc., and punished for not displaying these things.

- Race/IQ/gender/genetics denialism ("Boasian anthropology") = Christian Universalism.
- Political Correctness = Heresy.
- Cancel culture = witch-hunts/excommunicated for heresy
- God = Government. An omnipresent entitlement and benefactor giver.
- Heaven = progressive diverse utopia that can only be reached when certain constantly changing criteria have been fulfilled such as eliminating "class structures", "racism" and "sexism", etc.

This is why there is such a strong push to have critical race theory (secularized original sin) taught in schools (secularized churches). The original psyop religion is dying among white people, so that is why they are pushing the secular ones now. As young as possible, white children are taught that they are horrible and that their white skin is a mark of sin (original sin). Then they will be given a program of penance that requires them to seek redemption/salvation through virtue and piety signaling, self-flagellating, being missionaries of Wokeism, self-policing other whites ("heretics"), and working against their own tribal and familial interests as "noble traitors". Instilling guilt and shame complexes and then offering a system of redemption is Christianity's foundation and a powerful way of manipulating people.

4. What do the Jews Believe? Top ↑

Around the same time that the Alexandrian School Jews created the "New Testament" to mentally subvert their enemies, they plagiarized Plato's Timaeus (360 BC) (where the story of Abraham comes from), Plato's The Laws [link] (347 BC) (8), Manetho's Aegyptiaca (ca. 285–280 BC) (where the story of Exodus comes from), and Berossus's Babyloniaca (278 BC) [link] and then turned this new religion into a group strategy to fortify their own group's tribalism. (9)

To prove this, simply compare the differences between the Old and New Testaments:

- Jews: "eye for an eye" and "never forgive, never forget". Christians: "turn the other cheek" and "submit to the evil doer".
- Jews: "life should be endowed with material worth." Jews do not believe in an afterlife and believe in achieving riches and pleasure in this life. Christians believe in asceticism and that they will get their reward in the afterlife.
- Jews: the Torah contains over 100 mitzvot concerning business and money-making. Christians: "usury" and money lending is one of the worst sins.
- Jews: master race/"God's chosen people", outbreeding or conversion is forbidden. Christians: Universalist/"all are one in Jesus", "love thy brother". Having "pride" is one of the worst sins.
- Jews: multiple mitzvots that command them to be fruitful and have as many kids as possible. Christians: the bible preaches celibacy [too many verses to quote, so go here: link] and antinatalism (Ecclesiastes 4:3, Job 3:16, Matthew 26:24), and moreover, "jesus" even says that men should castrate themselves to gain entry into the kingdom of heaven! (Matthew 19:11-12 [link])
- The "New Testament" was built on Judaism, which unconsciously ties Christians to Jewish masters.
- Judaism is tribal. Christianity is universal.
- Judaism is an ethnocentric religion that does not accept converts. Christians actively seek converts of all races because Christian Universalism considers everyone equal.
- The Old Testament is filled with violence, killing, and war. The New Testament is filled with love, unconditional tolerance, and anti-rebellion: "for all who draw the sword will die by the sword".
- Jews loath Christians, but Christians believe that Jews are "God's chosen" and they exist to serve Israel.

5. Conclusion Top ↑

Over the past 2000 years, White European evolutionary group strategy has evolved under constant pressure to conform to this christian (original and secularized) system. All of your patterns of perception, logic, symbol formation, thought, speech, action, and emotional response have evolved to operate subconsciously within the dynamics of this system. This system stripped you of identity, pride, tribal spirit and the will to power with the ultimate goal of turning you into a guilt-ridden and self-loathing slave.

Combine this with oppressive class systems/feudalism and that is how you end up with 50% of White European people evolving to think that they can gain moral and social supremacy over other group members by being self-loathing cuckolds, and the other 50% evolving to think that they can gain moral and social supremacy over other group members by being self-policing "white jesus".

It is horrifying to think of the scale that this psyop grew to, how this system became institutionalized, how it changed the evolutionary group strategy of billions of White European people, how it created hell on earth for all White European people for centuries, and sadly, how it will also be the system that succeeds in the total genetic annihilation of the White European race.

6. Appendices

A. The fictional "Jesus" character is a composite of the Egyptian deity Horus, Persian deity Zoroaster, Druidic deity Hesus [link], and the Norse deities Odin and Thor (the cross is the Mjölnir hammer upside down). Hesus and Odin were crucified in mythology and there is not a shred of historical evidence that can prove the Romans ever crucified anyone. This explains why xtianity spread amongst the Germanic people because they recognized the symbology from their Pagan religions. The symbol of the cross, crucifixion, and name "Hesus" were probably incorporated by Constantine at Nicaea (AD 325) to placate the Roman subjects in Britain. The fictional "Paul the Apostle" character is "Josephus" [link] aka Tiberius Julius Alexander combined with the Ancient Egyptian story "Tale of the Shipwrecked Sailor" [link]. "Pontius Pilate" is Aulus Avilius Flaccus who was the Prefect (governor) of Roman Egypt. He was sent to the island of Ponza (Pontia) [link] (Tacitus, Annals, 14.59) where high level political prisoners were kept and was tortured to death in 38AD immediately after Philo's embassy to Caligula (Philo: Legatio ad Gaium (Embassy to Gaius). This shows the power that the jews had in pre-Flavian-era Rome.

B. How did xtianity spread? Emperor Vespasian was very likely a crypto-jew grandson of "Herod the Great" (Herod Agrippa) [link] (ignore the later depictions of him that have idealized Julio-Claudian features and look at his youngest depictions [link]) and along with his sons Titus and Domitian he brought to Rome 100,000 jewish "slaves" (Josephus, Jewish War vi, 9) [link]. At the time there was a jewish gang/terrorist group in Rome called the 'Chrestiani' group [link]. It seems likely that the 100,000 jewish "slaves" joined the 'Chrestiani' group and "Josephus" used the Chrestiani name for the psyop religion to deify this group who became the early missionaries and profited greatly from selling this religion to the slaves and exploited classes.

1. The earliest extant Old (Septuagint) [link] and New [link] Testament manuscripts were written in Koine Greek, a Greek dialect that was specific to Hellenized jews in Alexandria. [link] [link] [link]

*ChatGPT:
-"The early letters of the New Testament reflect an Alexandrian text-type, which is one of the main text types in textual criticism of the New Testament. This text type is characterized by shorter and more difficult readings than other text types, such as the Western or Byzantine. It is also based on some of the oldest and most reliable manuscripts of the New Testament, such as Codex Vaticanus and Codex Sinaiticus."
-"Some stylometric studies have suggested that Philo and Paul have a high degree of similarity in their use of Greek words and expressions, especially those related to theology, ethics, and eschatology. For example, both use terms such as pistis (faith), charis (grace), nomos (law), pneuma (spirit), sarx (flesh), and teleios (perfect) in similar ways. Some scholars have also argued that Philo and John share a common philosophical background and terminology, especially in their use of logos (word or reason) to describe the divine principle or agent of creation and revelation. For example, both use expressions such as "in the beginning", "the light of men", "the true light", "the life", and "the only-begotten" to refer to the logos".
-"In a book by Robert Eisenman, called The New Testament Code: The Cup of the Lord, the Damascus Covenant, and the Blood of Christ (2006), Eisenman uses various methods of textual analysis, such as word frequency, word clusters, word patterns, thematic parallels, and intertextuality, to argue that Philo was the real author of most of the New Testament writings, including the Pauline epistles."

2. Christianity was not the only slave-morality psyop religion that Philo's school in Alexandria created. Gnosticism [link] (note that the Nassenes [link], who were the earliest Gnostics, attributed divinity to Mariamne the Edomite aka Mary Magdalene in xtianity [link] [link] [link] who was Philo's grandmother) and Hermeticism [link] came from there. Philo possibly also wrote the first draft of the slave-morality of Buddhism [link] [link] [link] (Buddhism = the ancient Vedas repackaged with Alexandrian slave morality and Stoicism). The Pali Canon was written in 600CE, but Philo was writing about Buddhism almost 600 years before this [link]. Philo probably also had some involvement in the syncretic religion of Mithraism and the "Old Testament" (Septuagint) which were projects of Aristobulus of Alexandria, his predecessor at the Alexandrian School. The Alexandrian School made an industry out of taking existing religions and then adding to them a psyop slave-morality foundation. The Serapis cult, Gnosticism, Mithraism, Christianity, Manichaeanism, Valentinianism, Hermeticism, Buddhism, and about a dozen other pacifist slave-making religions came from here. 3. Friedrich Nietzsche claimed that slave moralities [link] (xtianity, Buddhism, liberalism, etc.) allowed the chandala castes to triumph over the aristocratic and warrior castes in ancient India and in Rome and he predicted that they would eventually allow them to overtake the entire west which is what you see today [link]. Ex. the lowest scum chandala are empowered to destroy all progress in their attempt to gain moral and social supremacy over over the higher castes (just look at every progressive run city in the west). Quotes from Friedrich Nietzsche:

-"Christianity, sprung from Jewish roots and comprehensible only as a growth on this soil, represents the counter-movement to any morality of breeding, of race, privilege:—it is the anti-Aryan religion par excellence. Christianity, the revaluation of all Aryan values, the victory of chandala values, the gospel preached to the poor and base, the general revolt of all the downtrodden, the wretched, the failures, the less favored, against race: the undying chandala hatred as the religion of love".
-"The Jews are responsible for bringing mankind to a state where it finds it ever harder to affirm life at all: they have made mankind sick with their reversal of values, whereby only those who suffer are good, only those who are poor, those who are despised are good; only those who deny life are good."
-"Christianity aims at mastering beasts of prey; its modus operandi is to make them sick—weakening is the Christian recipe for taming, for "civilizing." Buddhism is a religion for the closing, over-wearied stages of civilization".

7. Everything written above, that Philo of Alexandria was the true author of the New Testament Epistles, and that christianity is a divide and conquer system which is designed to appeal to the oppressed, exploited, and women, was described in the 1800s by German philosopher Bruno Bauer (Christianity Exposed by Bruno Bauer (1843)).

Bruno Bauer believed that Christianity weaponized the resentment of the lower classes for a social revolution. He argued that the Christian concept of sin was a way for the lower classes to express their anger and frustration at the injustices of the social order. In Bauer's view, sin was not a moral failing, but rather a political one. It was the act of disobeying the authorities, whether they were political, religious, or social. By defining sin in this way, Bauer argued that Christianity gave the lower classes a language to express their discontent with the status quo.

Quotes from Bruno Bauer:
-"Christianity was a religion of the oppressed classes, of the slaves, of the poor, of women. It was a religion of suffering and consolation. It promised a future life where all the injustices and miseries of this world would be compensated. It taught submission and obedience to the existing authorities, but also resistance and rebellion against the pagan oppressors. It created a community of believers who shared a common faith and hope, but also a common hatred and resentment against the unbelievers and persecutors".
-“Liberalism is the offspring of Christianity, which has inherited its contradictions and weaknesses.”
-“The French Revolution was not only a political revolution, but also a religious one. It was the first manifestation of a godless religion, a religion that did not need any transcendent or supernatural support, but only the power and will of man.”
-"Philo is the real founder of Christianity; Jesus is only the mythical hero, in whom the ideas of Philo were embodied. The Christian doctrine of the Logos, of the incarnation, of the atonement, of the resurrection, of the future life, are all to be found in Philo" (The Life of Jesus, p. 106).

-"Bauer studied this question until his death. His research reached its culminating point in the conclusion that the Alexandrian Jew Philo, who was still living about A.D. 40 but was already very old, was the real father of Christianity" -- Bruno Bauer and Early Christianity by Frederick Engels (1882) [link]

Friedrich Nietzsche was greatly inspired by the work of Bruno Bauer:
-"The Christian moral ideal has been secularized and translated into the political ideal of liberalism, with its emphasis on equality, progress, and universal rights. But this ideal is still essentially Christian, and it still carries with it the same dangers of mediocrity and conformity.".
-"Liberalism, the political expression of Christian morality, is the attempt on the part of the herd animal to establish itself as the absolute value, to safeguard itself against all that still remains of the aristocratic spirit.".
-The democratic movement is the heir to Christianity—the destroyer of everything noble."
-"The democratic movement is the secularized form of Christianity: it has taken the Christian ideal of equality and applied it to the political sphere. This has led to the belief that all people are equal in their rights and that they should all have an equal say in the government. However, this belief is based on a false understanding of what equality means. Equality does not mean that everyone is the same; it means that everyone has the same potential. In reality, people are different, and they should be treated accordingly."
-"The socialist is merely a Christian in a new disguise. He has simply secularized Christian morality. The concepts "equality of rights" and "equal value of men" are of Christian origin."

Bruno Bauer was Karl Marx's mentor and friend, and Marx wrote multiple times about how he was influenced by him (see: 'Karl Marx: The Influence of Bruno Bauer on Marx's Thought' by Zvi Rosen). Marx even addressed his work 'On the Jewish Question' to him.
